24. (New) A flexible film having a substantially flat lower surface and a non-planar upper surface having finely-shaped projections with a generally trapezoidal cross-section comprising riser, plateau and facet portions flanked by land portions, wherein the facets have varied dimensions, pitch or angular orientation such that if the plateaus are laminated to the light output face of a substantially planar light guide having at least one light input face that supplies light to the guide, a viewing face and the light output face opposite the viewing face, the facets will reflect and thereby extract supplied light from the guide through the light exit face and the supplied light will be evenly distributed across the viewing face.
